WEEE Regulations Statement

The WEEE Regulations:

The European Union's Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment (WEEE) Directive was introduced on 1st July 2007 to encourage the disposal of Waste Electrical & Electronic Equipment in an environmentally responsible way. Items that are subject to these regulations are marked with a crossed wheellie bin as per above. Items that are marked in this way were placed on the market after 13th August 2005 and should, at the end of their working life, be taken or sent to a designated collection point for recycling. Items marked with this symbol should not be disposed of in household or general waste. In this way you will assist in the recovery, recycling and possible reuse of some of the materials used in these products and help reduce the amount of electrical and electronic waste ending up in landfill.

Our responsibility:

Technotrend Ltd introduces Electrical and Electronic Equipment (EEE) onto the UK market and as such has a responsibility as a Producer under the WEEE Directive for the recovery and proper treatment of these products ('obligated WEEE') at the end of their useful life. Our main responsibilities as a Producer are:

- To provide collection, recycling and treatment arrangements to business customers for any obligated WEEE.
- To contribute towards the costs involved in processing WEEE collected at household recycling sites.
- To provide the provision of free take-back to household consumers on a like-for-like basis when placing an order direct with Technotrend Ltd for new EEE.

Technotrend Ltd 'Obligated WEEE':

WEEE obligated to our company is defined as product marked with the wheellie bin and date bar label referred to above and sold with the brand name 'Technotrend' featured on the product (TTL in the case of the multi-test screwdriver due to space constraints), user guide and/or product packaging. Any customer considering Technotrend obligated WEEE to be for any other item than those featuring on our website www.technotrend.co.uk must contact the company on 0118 3273190 to provide a full description before obligating WEEE to Technotrend Ltd.

Where an existing product that was purchased before 13th August 2005 is being replaced by a new item of EEE that we are to place on the UK market, and where that replacement is on a like-for-like basis, the existing product is also considered as obligated WEEE.
